3 Solutions to some differential Equations. A Linear Di Eq.: Pick your favorite real numbers  $a, b; y_0$  and consider the IVP  $dy/dt = ay + b; y(0) = y_0$ . The general solution to this di eq is  $y(t) = b/a + y_0/b/a e^{at}$ . I will show you how one can get this very soon! Example: Find the solution to  $dy/dt = 2y + 8; y(0) = 5$ ; Solution: Then  $a = 2; b = 8$  and  $y$

Professors often distribute a slide deck or some kind of a lecture outline before or after each class, but that is a supplement, not a substitute for taking your own notes. Taking notes needs to be fast, flexible, and done with the end in mind. By that I mean, your note system should make it easy for you to prepare for exams.

Revision Notes on Solution: A solution is a homogeneous mixture of two (or more) substances, the composition of which may vary between certain limits. A solution consisting of two components is called binary solution. The component which is present in large quantity is called solvent and the component which is small in quantity is called solute. If both components are in same physical state.

The boundary conditions used here, can be used to specify the electrostatic potential between  $x = 0$  m and  $x = 10$  m but not in the region  $x < 0$  m and  $x > 10$  m. If the solution obtained here was the general solution for all  $x$ , then  $V$  would approach infinity when  $x$  approaches infinity and  $V$  would approach minus infinity when  $x$  approaches minus infinity. The boundary conditions therefore provide ...
